County Council District #5 CONSTITUENT UPDATE

Making Our Community Safer

During County Council's budget process for this fiscal year, I voted for and supported the request from our Solicitor's Office to fund two additional prosecutors who will try cases of violent criminals.

Helping Neglected & Abused Children

I voted to support a request from Richland County's Court-Appointed Special Advocates office to pay for additional office staff who will help our neglected and abused children.

Voted Against Property Tax Increase

Once again, I voted against raising property taxes here in Richland County. Although I was outvoted by a majority of other council members, I felt it was important to cast a vote against increasing property taxes year after year.

Opposed $60 Million in Hospitality Projects

During the debate on our county's hospitality tax fund, I voted against $60 million in project requests because they did not make financial sense for Richland County and didn't provide for any operating expenses.

BUDGET HIGHLIGHTS FOR OUR LOCAL AREA

Providing More Recreation

This past year we moved closer to implementing the one-of-a-kind urban walking trail at Owens Field Park in the Rosewood neighborhood.

Baseball Field Funded in Owens Field Park

I helped secure $75,000 in funding to build a wheelchair-accessible baseball field at Owens Field Park, in conjunction with and help from the Ray Tanner Foundation and the City of Columbia.

Neighborhood Master Plans Underway

This past budget cycle, I put forth the motion to fund a joint master plan with the City of Columbia for the Olympia and Whaley Street neighborhoods. Both governmental entities need to chart the future for these historic neighborhoods and I am pleased to report this is now underway.

Public Schools, Historic Columbia & Arts

Throughout the debate on the County's budget, I supported and voted in favor of all funding requests from Historic Columbia, our public schools and cultural arts groups.

It's an honor to be your voice and represent you on Richland County Council.
